

KAMERON GREENE BIO

A native of Long Beach, California, Kameron has worked in radio for more than 20 years. A graduate from the University of California, Berkeley in Mass Media Communications, she was the leading evening news anchor and sports broadcaster on 90.7 KALX-FM in Berkeley. In this role, Kameron became one of the only female sports broadcasters in the San Francisco Bay Area. She continues to use her sports broadcaster skills at KJLH contributing to KJLH's weekly sports segment, "Sports Roll." In this role, she has covered various media day events for the Los Angeles Lakers, LA Dodgers and the Los Angeles Sparks. Kameron also worked as an assistant producer and copy writer for three public and news affairs television programs on UPN-Channel 44, formerly the UPN-Channel 13 network in San Francisco. Kameron is passionate about mentoring youth and young adults interested in broadcast journalism, and she is a community member of the Alliance for Women in Media.
