

THECouncil Bio

THECouncil, founded by Sheopatra in 2015, is an empowerment collective that pushes female presence and leadership in the movement and entertainment industry. The mission is to provide space and support for women, specifically women of color, to cultivate artistically, mentally, and spiritually within their personal, business, and artistic endeavors. In return, we use those cultivated gifts and relationships to bring more aid to our communities and the world in its stride for better.